To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Anna Gawkowska since the Fall 2005 Semester when I had her in both the lecture and laboratory for “Analytical Chemistry” (Chem 301). For this course, Ms. Gawkowska received an “A.” Recently, Anna was nominated as Central Connecticut State University’s recipient of the 2006 Undergraduate Analytical Chemistry Award given by the American Chemical Society.

I have found Anna to be intelligent and inquisitive. She is mature and well-disciplined. Anna is at ease with herself and her classmates. In the laboratory, I noticed that Anna is patient and meticulous in her work.

In short, I highly recommend Ms. Gawkowska for admission into medical school with no hesitation.

Sincerely,

James V. Arena, Ph.D.
Professor of Chemistry
